

Addressing Violence against Women and Girls requires:

- Appreciation of the intersections and distinctions between VAWG and other forms of violence
- Focused services for women and girls
- Accountability to women and girls in their diversity
- A gender transformative, and feminist approach to all violence prevention efforts
- Thoughtful collaboration with actors working to address different forms of violence